Virginia Health Resorts.

A Natural Sanitarium Within a Few Hours' Ride of Washington.

Dr. Joseph Holt,

Who discovered and applied the system known as "MARITIME SANITATION," who ranks among the foremost sanitarists of the world, and who has studied climatic conditions more thoroughly than any other southern physician, in reply to a question regarding the mountain and springs section of Virginia as an outing and health region, wrote as follows, under date of May 31st, 1896:

"I consider the mountains of Virginia as a natural sanitarium where visitors from warm latitudes, and especially from crowded centers, may surely enjoy the benefits of waste-restoring stimulus, which insures a rapid recuperation and the very best preparation for renewed health and a long sustained activity in the occupation of a busy and often overworked life.'

The section of country referred to by Dr. Holt is the mineral springs region of the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains-four to seven hours' ride from Washington by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, one of the safest, best equipped and most picturesque trunk lines in America.

In this favored region, at an average elevation of 2,500 feet, are the Virginia Hot Springs, with the magnificent New Homestead, recently improved and enlarged; the most luxurious and modern bathing establishment in this country (every bath being given from flowing springs of natural hot water), casino, golf links and well kept greens, livery and riding school. The Healing Springs, two and a half miles, and the Warm Sulphur Springs, five miles distant, both quiet, picturesque and homelike resorts; the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, for generations the central point of reunion for the best society of the north and south; Old Sweet Springs, Sweet Chalybeate Springs, Red Sulphur Springs, Salt Sulphur Springs, Rockbridge Alum Springs, Natural Bridge, Nimrod Hall, many other well-known health and pleasure resorts, and three hundred homes for summer boarders.

cessfully inaugurated by the fete at Corcoran house gardens Thursday, and the managers of it are very happy over the results, which have added $700 or more to the depleted treasury of the Decorative Art Society. Other out-of-door fetes are as yet few, as June or later in this month has generally probabilities of more settled weather. The tea parties of the coming week are indoor affairs, Mrs. Holliday leading off Monday by a large gathering of her friends in Mrs. McKee's honor, and Miss Kate Myer receiving her acquaintances Tuesday, as is her custom each spring. The largest gathering of the week, if not, indeed, of the year, will be Mrs. Westinghouse's reception Thursday evening in honor of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The preparation for the entertaining of such a large company has necessitated the erection of a temporary addition to Blaine house. This annex, appropriately decorated, as it is certain to be in these days of floral and electrical fairy-land effects, even if it has a short exist-ence, will surely add a social chapter to local history of great importance and in-

Though they have been living ther for the past two or three days, it will take some time longer to get the house in good order. As is well known, this house is one of the most commodious in its section, and is especially well arranged for entertaining, which is the main ranged for entertaining, which is the main reason its present occupants have taken it.

Mrs. Davis intends to give it a warming, so to speak, and has in contemplation a musicale which will be given before she leaves Washington for the summer.

Senator and Mrs. Quay will keep their K street home open for some time yet, although at present nearly all the family are out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont arrived at Lexington, Ky., yesterday, where they will spend a while inspecting the former's thor-oughbred horses. The modern honeymoon seems to require both mental and physical employment to make it pass successfully, and this practical way of using the time is commendable. They enjoyed their Washington visit hugely, and especially those hours of it devoted to receiving their friends, social and political, and inspecting the bride's wedding gifts. Mrs. Belmont had several boxes handed to her one day as she was in her carriage about to go for as sne was in her carriage about to go for a drive. She opened them with all the excitement any young girl might have displayed, and the passers-by were dazzled by 'he flashing of dlamonds in the bright sunlight. The meeting was well attended and was one of the most enjoyable of the series. Some business of a routine nature was transacted, among other things the members being especially requested to secure a large attendance for the last meeting of the season, which will be held at Maccabee Hall the first Thursday in June, and then the meeting was turned over to Mr. Frank Carden, who had charge of the program prepared for the entertainment of thise present. Miss Grace Ross gave a number of recitations, each one of which was re-ceived with warm applause. Miss Dorothy ceived with warm applause. Miss Dorothy Lair was obliged to respond to a hearty encore after her piano solo, a transcription from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," while Misses Jessie MacBride and Mabel Claffin were also warmly applauded in vocal duets. Miss MacBride also sang "My Love and I" as a solo, while Miss Claffin gave the jewel song from "Faust." Miss Lair occupied the difficult place of accompanist.

Mr. J. L. McCreery read an original humorous poem, entitled "She Has Trav-eled," that added much to the evening's enjoyment. At the meeting to be held in June the association will probably adjourn until Oc-
